

Turning Point Center of Chittenden County

The Turning Point Center of Chittenden County provides free, evidence-based recovery support services for individuals and families affected by substance use disorder, 365 days a year. Our certified peer recovery coaches and staff—all with lived experience in recovery—provide compassionate, nonjudgmental support, helping people build meaningful connections, navigate challenges, access resources, and find the solutions they need to build lasting recovery.

How you can help + support:

Join us at Raving for Recovery on August 15 from 4:30-8pm in Burlington's City Hall Park—our largest advocacy event and annual gift to the recovery community. Enjoy free food, live music, family activities, back-to-school supplies for youth, and inspiring stories of recovery while celebrating hope, connection, and the power of community.
